Like rye bread, kosher pickles and bagels, this show is for everyone! You'll laugh 'til you plotz.

The New York Times says it is "Hilarious! ... Magnificent, enduring rhythm of Jewish Humor." Created by Peter Gethers and Daniel Okrent, "Old Jews Telling Jokes" showcases five actors in a comedy that pays tribute to and reinvents classic jokes of the past and present.

The show also features comic songs--brand new and satisfyingly old--as well as tributes to some of the giants of the comedy world and to the Old Jews Telling Jokes website, which inspired the show. If you've ever had a mother, visited a doctor or walked into a bar with a priest, a rabbi and a frog, "Old Jews Telling Jokes" will sit in the dark, give you a second opinion and ask you where you got that.

Please call the Temple office if you would like to go but need a ride -- we will do our best to organize transportation.

Shabbat Morning Torah Study: A Great Adventure

Greetings! I write this April letter in mid-March, on the day of the Israeli elections. Of course I do not know what the results will be, and even after all the inevitable coalition-wrangling is over, we still won't know what the consequences will be for Israel because so much has hung in the balance there for so long now. Israeli politics is a topic that many Jewish clergy try to stay away from because when it comes to Israel, and especially to questions about how the Jewish nation deals with its neighbors, many of us in the Jewish community have wildly different ideas, opinions, and feelings, and being true to our ancestral heritage, we can get rather passionate about them. While growing up in my non-Jewish family, I was always known as the one who would argue over a philosophical or political point at a family dinner till I was "blue in the face." In the white Anglo-Saxon culture of my origin, this kind of behavior was considered impolite; I was always the oddball. It was later, when I came north to attend Smith College, and befriended a number of Jewish students, that I discovered that Jewish culture had a different sense of what was polite and impolite, and that a good ideological debate between friends or family members was accepted: it showed that you had brains and were not afraid to use them!

Of course not all who use their brains come to the same conclusions. Our Sages said that any verse of Torah has shiv'im panim, seventy faces. I like to think of this as seventy facets—picturing words of the Torah as prisms, light sparkling through them in different directions, casting rainbow-colored spots of light out on our lives. But the "rainbows" will not shine out unless the light shines through them—and what is this light? The light is us, any of us who are willing to open hearts, minds and souls to "engage in words of Torah," as the blessing for Torah-study puts it. The Rabbis (of the Talmudic period, who helped transform ancient Israelite practice into Rabbinic Judaism) did not teach that God commanded us to affirm every word of Torah, or even to follow every instruction of the Torah (some were only meant for a specific time period, or for specific people or situations). Instead, they taught that we are commanded to engage in words of Torah. As any of you who have come to one of our Shabbat morning services where we spend a good portion of the 2-hour service time doing just that will know, this is a stimulating, enlivening activity.

Since Mark and I have been at Temple Beth El, the Kabbalat Shabbat service on Friday night has become a lovely gathering time for our regular attendees. Everyone seems to love the Friday-night melodies, many of them set to a lilting waltz-like rhythm. Mark or I usually speak a few words about the weekly Torah portion, and after the service is over, we find that people love to linger to socialize with one another. It is a warm, relaxed time when we feel the cares of the week melt away from us, at least for the short time that we are together.

But Shabbat morning is a treasure that has not yet been discovered, except by a select few. The energy of Shabbat morning is different from that of Erev Shabbat. Rather than a waltz, it feels more like an exploration, an adventure. Since we do not take the Torah scroll out and open it without a minyan, what usually happens is that we study the weekly Torah portion together from the chumash, mostly in English, but also dipping into the Hebrew—and this is where we taste the privilege of "engaging in words of Torah." It is amazing what a rainbow of colors is shed from these discussions which sometimes comprise as few as four people!

Of course Mark and I would love to have forty people at Shabbat morning services rather than four, and we look forward to the return of our snowbirds later this spring, for among these are some of our Shabbat morning regulars. But even with only four people our Torah discussions are enlivening, profound—and fun! Disputes are encouraged: you do not have to agree, you do not have to believe that the Torah is "divine," you do not even have to "believe in God" (however you understand these words) to take part. All you have to do is open yourself up to "engage in words of Torah," which necessarily also means to engage with your community and your world, to reflect on the meaning of your life, your past (both personal and ancestral), and to consider how to leave a decent world for future generations.

The Jewish search for truth embraces questioning, examination, exchange of differing ideas (even "disputation"), and holds out the possibility of multiple perspectives being simultaneously true. As we prepare to celebrate Pesach, which the Rabbis called z'man cheruteinu, the time of our freedom, I am feeling hopeful that gradually more and more of our community will come to sample the freedom that comes from open-hearted enquiry and engagement with words of Torah. I can't promise you that all who engage in this together will agree—but I can promise you an adventure!

Wishing all of you and yours a joyous Passover,

Cantor Shoshana

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Sisterhood President's Message

Dear Members,

On March 1st I was blessed to be at a very special event, Charlie Stamper's 100th birthday party. If you have ever had the pleasure of meeting Charlie, you know what a great guy he is. He is humble and generous. He is a true gentleman and a family man. He is a wonderful role model, and so much more. Seeing what he meant to so many different people made me realize just how fortunate we are to have him in our midst. He likes to say he is the oldest active member of our congregation, and that is a title that I hope he keeps for many years to come. The snow and ice couldn't keep him away from morning minyan, and he is counting the days until he can get back out on the golf course, so I like his odds. Cheers to 100 years well lived...and many more!

If you have been in the vestry lately you have probably seen, and even smelled, something new. Our custodian, Sue Borden-Franco, has been bringing gorgeous flowers in from her other job at Fall River Florist. The flowers are such a welcome surprise, especially during this colorless time of year. If you see Sue, please let her know that you appreciate her thoughtfulness. You may have to tap her on the shoulder, as she is practically a blur as she cleans every corner of our building. Thank you, Sue!

I hope to see many of you at our Passover Community Celebration and Meal on April 10th at 5:30 pm. Please note that as this will be a catered meal, we will have to turn away anyone who does not RSVP by April 1st. I'm afraid there can be no exceptions, so please call or email by April 1st.

Lastly, I am happy to report that we have installed six new security cameras, covering all of our entrances and exits, plus an extra one inside. In these uncertain times, the Board felt that this is money well-spent, and I personally feel safer knowing that we have the building thoroughly covered and recorded.

We made one more purchase that you will see in the vestry, where we have mounted a large flat-screen TV and Blu-Ray player. We plan to use it for showing all kinds of videos, including Jewish movies. Adas Israel has generously offered to share the cost of the new TV, and they will join us for our movie events. The first film will be shown on Sunday, April 19th at 4 pm. Stay tuned for TBE movie updates.

Wishing you all a wonderful Passover.

Steve Silverman
President

Dear Members,

Who ever dreamt there would still be snow on the ground at the end of March? But as I write this article it's out there, black and dirty. Hopefully the warmer weather they're predicting later on this week will help to melt it down. Meanwhile, summer is coming.

Let me wish all of you a very Happy Passover! We are all filling up on matzos and the other delicacies that we eat at this time of year. It's amazing, everyone's on a diet, watching their calories, carbs, sugars and fats, but low and behold all our holidays revolve around food. I just love it. I hope to see all of you at our Passover Shabbat dinner. I'm sure those of you that attend will have a good time.

It looks like we're finally going to get our Book Club back on track. Between the tremendous amount of snow and the parking situation, we were unable to get together. As soon as we have the next book and date, we'll let everyone know.

We will be planning a Sisterhood Paid-Up Membership Luncheon for sometime in June. More information will follow.

I want to comment on our Purim celebration. A good time was had by all who attended. I would be remiss if I didn't thank Beverly Solup for her help with the menu, and George Haire and Carlton Smith for their help in the kitchen and with the elevator. And much thanks to Cantor Shoshana and Rabbi Mark for their hard work with the program. It is so much fun to see the kids in our Temple, especially on Purim. Thank you, thank you, thank you!

So until next month, Shalom.

Libby Cohen,
Sisterhood President

Cantor Shoshana's News & Notes:

We had a wonderful Purim celebration at Temple Beth El! The TBE Youth Group performed "Diary of a Wimpy King," and the Rabbi, Cantor, and member Daniel Schafner chanted from the Megillah, with participation from other congregants who read parts of the Megillah in English. Thank you to the Sisterhood (especially Libby Cohen) and George Haire, who prepared a dinner for all in attendance complete with hamentashen.

A collection was taken on Purim for matonot l'evyonim—gifts to the poor—which is one of the traditional mitzvot of Purim. We collected $98 which was donated to the United Neighbors of Fall River, directed towards the Vela Fund which helps to resettle formerly homeless families in new homes.

On March 23rd, Rabbi Mark and Cantor Shoshana attended a "Theological Exchange Between Catholics and Jews" at Providence College, sponsored by their Theology Dept., Graduate Program in Theology, and other departments of Providence College.

Over the weekend of March 27th-28th, Cantor Shoshana participated in the Smith Alumnae Colloquium, "Women Taking the Right Risks," speaking on the panel, "The Life I Didn't Expect." While at Smith, Cantor Shoshana also joined the Smith Hillel students for Kabbalat Shabbat, co-leading the service with colleague Rabbi Rhonda Shapiro-Rieser, and introducing the students afterwards to her project on the Psalms, Zimrat haAretz.

Rabbi Mark is teaching a course ("Introduction to Kabbalah") at the Dwares JCC in Providence.

PLEASE NOTE:

There is no Friday evening service on April 3rd as it is the second night of Passover.

Friday Night Live resumes in May!

Upcoming Events:

On Thursday, April 9, 2015 at 4:00 PM Ms. Esther Bauer will be the featured speaker at the event "A Conversation with a True Holocaust Survivor." This event will take place at BCC, 777 Elsbree Street, Fall River, MA, at the Jackson Arts Center—H210. The event is sponsored by the BCC Holocaust Center and is free of charge.

Don't forget to RSVP to our Community Pass-over Celebratory Meal on Friday April 10th. Although it will be too late to do the Seder (the meal takes place on the eve of the 8th day of Passover), we will accompany the meal with plenty of fun and traditional Passover songs—don't miss it!

On Wed, April 15th there will a Yom HaShoah (Holocaust Memorial Day) Service at Temple Beth El at 5:30 pm. We have not held such a service at TBE for many years. Please make an effort to attend so that all those heroes, victims and martyrs of our people should not be forgotten! (Service to take place in the Sanctuary.)

On Friday April 24th at 5:30 pm, we will hold our 2nd annual Tribute to Israel Shabbat wine and cheese (and song-and stories) service. This service comes one day after Yom Ha Atzma'ut (Israel Independence Day). Last year's tribute was a wonderful event—please mark it on your calendar for this April—you will not want to miss it!

The Temple Beth El/ Adas Israel Film Center! We have a new 65" flat screen TV in our Vestry purchased jointly by TBE and Congregation Adas Israel! We are looking forward to some wonderful group film-viewing together! The first film will be shown on Sunday, April 19th at 4 pm (stay tuned for further updates about the specific film to be shown). We are looking forward to some enjoyable and educational community viewing and discussions with our new purchase.
