A message from our Spiritual Leader,
Cantor Shoshana Brown

"To Praise, to Labor and to Love"

It is hard to write of "ordinary" things when we are living through such an out-of-the ordinary time. The momentousness of the events we have been reading and/or hearing of in the news over the past month – and the rapidity of these stunning events' unfolding – has been dizzying. (And, as I write these words, we are only just slightly more than half-way through the month!)

How does a community – whether it be our Jewish community at Temple Beth El, or that of the greater Fall River/Somerset community with its many cultures and faiths – maintain its equilibrium? Both Jews and Gentiles generally agree that "love your neighbor as yourself" is an ideal rule to live by, along with its corollary cited by Jesus in the Gospels, "do unto others as you would have them do unto you." The Jewish version of this latter teaching, attributed to the great sage Rabbi Hillel is just slightly different: "That which is hateful to you do not do to your neighbor." Despite their subtle differences, both of these teachings have this in common: they are both antithetical to the social Darwinist-type credo, "look out for Number One," or the attitude that we live in a dog-eat-dog world, and that each individual's primary aim should be to amass the most money and/or power over others.

Some might point out another famous teaching of Hillel, as recorded in Mishna Pirke Avot ("Ethics of our Ancestors") 1:14 that seems to echo a "me first" kind of philosophy: "If I am not for myself, who will be for me?" – but if we keep reading, we find that the teaching continues, "...but if I am only for myself, what am I? – and if not now, when?" What kind of creatures are we if we are only concerned about our own well-being? Virtually all the major faiths (as well as many of the "minor" ones) of the world agree on this – God created us as social beings: we need the support of one another, and we have both an obligation and an emotional need to be of help to one another if we are to live a life that is worth living.

There is a phrase in our siddur (prayer book) that I love. It is found in "A Prayer for Peace" in Sim Shalom, said near the end of the Torah Service:

...we have not come into being to hate or to destroy.

We have come into being to praise, to labor, and to love.

I think this is the answer to how we as a Jewish community, and how all of us as a nation (however frayed our national fabric may be at the moment) can "hold it together." By remembering that we have come into being on this earth...

To praise: How? Through prayer and hymn if you are "religiously"-inclined; but also, even for the "non-religious," through both the appreciation and expression (through creativity) of beauty; through the act of praising others for their kindnesses or jobs well done; through the tending of a garden, rejoicing in nature or music, literature or science, even in food and fashion. Appreciating, praising, being grateful, surprised (not taking even simple things for granted), by being amazed every day.

To labor: We all need purposeful tasks, overarching goals in our lives – whether it be a "job" or profession, a family or community role, a sense of a "higher calling" (serving God, or one's country, or even the planet) – laboring in this sense is not just about securing enough income or provisions to survive (although that is necessary for life to continue), but about finding something worth living for. Being social beings, we need to know that we are needed in order for our lives to feel worthwhile.

To love: To love and care for others – both those near and dear to us, and, in a more altruistic way, those we do not know, using our imaginative faculty to put ourselves into the shoes of those less fortunate, and, moved by both obligation and compassion, to try to help make their lives better. Of course we cannot right all the wrongs of the world, or respond to the plight of every person (or species, or cause) in need – we would only end up exhausted and penniless! How exactly to carry out this mandate to love is a kind of mysterious dance: there is a spontaneity and unpredictability to it, but somehow, we have to trust that however limited we may think our power to love this way may be, it does make a difference.

If we can do these things, it shouldn't matter whether some of us are "liberal," others "conservative" – we can make common cause as Jews, as Americans, as human beings sharing the same planet. Yes, it looks as though we as a nation indeed have some "rough seas" ahead of us. But I think, if we can remember these words – to praise, to labor, and to love – we will come safely through the storm.

Wishing you all a safe and enjoyable summer,

Cantor Shoshana

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Dear Members,

Welcome back to our snowbirds...I'm afraid this was one of those years when you wished you had stayed away a little longer! While our changeable New England weather makes it hard to know how to dress each morning, the longer days and all the blooming trees and flowers are such a fine celebration of spring...at long last!

Our Annual meeting is right around the corner, on Tuesday, June 13th at 7 pm in the vestry. I encourage all congregants to attend. If you are interested in serving on the Board of Directors, please call the office as soon as possible. We are always looking for new people with new ideas to help lead us into the future.

We are currently in the process of negotiating a new lease with People Incorporated for the preschool. We are hoping to lock them in for at least two years, as they have been wonderful tenants, but they are looking to build their own preschool in the not-too-distant future. The longer they stay with us, the better!

As this is the last bulletin before the summer hiatus, be sure we have your email address on file so we can keep you advised of goings-on here at the Temple. Also remember to check our website regularly. As you can see on the cover of this bulletin, there is a lot going on around here this summer!

Lastly I would like to thank our Board of Directors for all of their help and guidance over the past year, Sisterhood for all they do to make our events special, and our fabulous staff for making my job easy.

I wish you and your families a healthy, safe and enjoyable summer.

ANNUAL MEETING

TUESDAY, JUNE 13TH
7 PM IN THE VESTRY

Election and Installation of Officers

All members are cordially invited to attend

Sisterhood President's Message

Dear Members,

As I prepare this article, plans are underway for Sisterhood's paid up membership luncheon. We are planning a special event on Thursday, July 27th, at 12:30 pm, at the Old Grist Mill Tavern in Seekonk. I could not do this without the help of my committee members: Elaine Reback, Hannah Evans, Beverly Solup, Beverly Sokoll and Marillyn Sokoll. Anything we do is always a joint effort, and I am blessed with the best group of ladies. Thank you so much for all your help. Watch your mail, invitations will go out shortly.

The Book Club will continue to meet over the summer. This is a good time to pick up an interesting read and take it to the beach. On June 21st we will be discussing "The Other Wes Moore" by Wes Moore, on July 19th "The Bridge Ladies" by Betsy Lerner and on August 16th "Hillbilly Elegy" by J.D. Vance. These sessions are lively and interesting, please feel free to join in.

As things come up over the summer, emails will be sent out. Please make sure the Temple office has your email address. If you have friends that are not on email please keep them informed.

So until September, stay safe and enjoy your summer. Shalom everyone.

Libby Cohen
Sisterhood President

Sisterhood Gift Shop

Have you browsed our Gift Shop lately and noticed the traditional and non-traditional merchandise? Our selection of door mezuzot always make a wonderful gift...and for the Red Sox fan, we have a Red Sox mezuzah. Though I have sold over thirty "Chai 5" baseball caps, there are still a few left. Along with our traditional Judaica jewelry, take a peek at our hamsa bracelets which are quite inexpensive.

Generally, I am at the temple for the Monday morning class, and I would be glad to meet with you before or after that. Feel free to call or email me to schedule an appointment for Monday or any other weekday morning. There is no obligation to buy. Have a wonderful summer!

TBE News & Notes

Our "Celebrate Israel" Seder/Service in May was an overflowing event, with the greatest number of participants we have had yet (this is our 4th year)! Thanks to all who participated, making it an uplifting way to give thanks for the Jewish State during the month that marks Israeli Independence Day.

Todah Rabbah to Elaine Weiss and Sylvia Eisner for organizing our Israeli-style dinner at our special Jewish film double feature, "from Sepharad to Ashkenaz" on Sunday, May 21st. The films were fascinating, the food fantastic, and the camaraderie superb!

Caffeine and Conversations: Our area clergy-run Interfaith Discussions (open to the general public) have continued to be popular! Our next discussion will be on Tuesday, June 6th, at 2 PM at the Fall River Public Library (downstairs meeting room). The topic is "Body-Spirit Connection: How Faith and Wellness Fit Together." (Stay tuned for our next meeting in September...)

Don't miss our Annual Congregational Meeting on Tuesday, June 13th at 7 PM in the Vestry.

We all want to wish a big Mazel Tov to Rabbi Mark for completing his Master of Fine Arts in Poetry, to be awarded by Warren Wilson College on July 14th. (Due to popular demand, a copy of Rabbi Mark's poem, "The Belzer Rebbe Comes to Stryy," which he read at Yom HaShoah, is now available via the "Articles" link of our TBE website.)

As of this writing, our Shavuot celebration has not yet occurred, but if you were among those who joined us for our evening study of S.Y. Agnon's stories on Leil Shavuot, or whether you joined us for Shavuot morning and enjoyed the cheesecake afterwards, I hope you will understand why this is my favorite of Jewish holidays – the delights of study, and cheesecake! What could be better?

Please note that on the evening of Monday, July 31st, the Fast of Tish'a b'Av begins. As in previous years, all are invited to join us for the recitation of Eikhah (the Book of Lamentations) at the home of the rabbi and cantor, 537 Walnut St. for the observance of this day of mourning, beginning at 8 PM.

Since this is the last bulletin until September, please check our website and look out for emails throughout the summer for events or news that we could not anticipate here.

SUNDAY AT THE JEWISH MOVIES

(All summer movies begin at 4:00 pm)

Sunday, June 25th:

A Borrowed Identity (Israeli - 2014)

A bright young Israeli Arab boy, admitted to a top-tier boarding school in Jerusalem, struggles to blend in with his Jewish classmates. Finding himself pulled in two directions, he faces a life-altering choice regarding his identity. Winner of "Best Feature Film" at the Boulder International Film Festival; nominated for 4 Ophir Awards (Israel).

Sunday July 23rd:

Defiant Requiem (Documentary - 2012)

A memorial concert reawakens the story of an artistic uprising in the Nazi concentration camp, Terezin, where imprisoned conductor Rafael Schächter and his chorus of 150 Jewish camp inmates fought back...with art and music. Through hunger, disease and slave labor, the inmates of Terezin held onto their humanity by staging plays, composing opera and using paper and ink to record the horrors around them. One reviewer writes: "This is what true documentary filmmaking should always be like."

Sunday August 27th

Liberty Heights (1999)

"No Jews, dogs or coloreds," reads the sign outside a public swimming pool in 1954 Baltimore. High school freshman Ben Kurtzman (Ben Foster) and friends find themselves confronted with anti-Semitism, racism and coming of age in a fast-changing world. Writer-director and Baltimore memorialist Barry Levinson takes viewers on a sentimental journey, complete with loving period details and wry humor.
